22nd IWC International Symposium
Wooden Heritage Conservation: beyond disciplines
30th September – 2nd October 2019, Bilbao

Since the ICOMOS International Wood Committee \(IWC\) was established in 1975, the need for a set of conservation principles has been a continuous theme in the Committee's ongoing discussions and activities.

During the 19th General Assembly of ICOMOS held in Delhi on 15th December 2017 the new IWC 'Principles for the Conservation of the Wooden Built Heritage' were adopted as ICOMOS doctrinal text. These new 'Principles' replace those adopted previously in 1999.

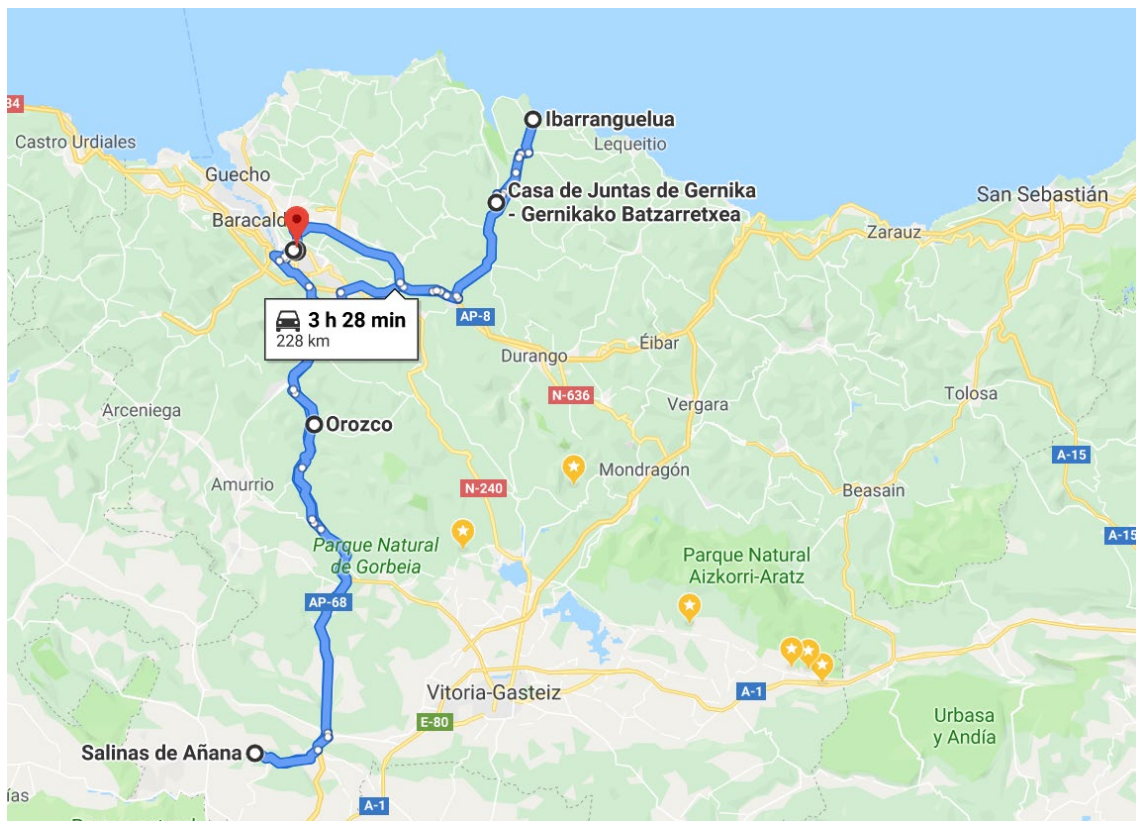

Last year, the 21st IWC Symposium held in York was a multidisciplinary forum for the interchange of experience, ideas, and knowledge of 'New Horizons' in the conservation of wooden built heritage as embraced in the new ICOMOS 'Principles' adopted in 2017.

This year we are offering a programme in the Basque country to further explore a holistic approach to wooden heritage conservation that converges intangible dimensions with material construction. The scope of the Symposium and Course will include a diversity of professions, approaches, and processes that together integrate both global and local perspectives on the conservation of wooden heritage.

The meeting will provide a forum for the exchange of intervention methodologies across a broad spectrum of disciplines including carpenters, engineers, architects, archaeologists, historians, wood scientists, administrators and heritage stakeholders.
